Australian Wool Industry Medal 2022 Recipient

Mr. Allan Casey

Allan is well-known and respected advisor to the sheep industry particularly for his involvement and leadership in researching and implementing advancements in Merino genetics.

Allan was a member of the NSW DPI (Merino Breeding Group), and foundation member of Advanced Breeding Services.

He provided valued and sought after advice to projects including Merino Lifetime Productivity Project, Rampower and SheepCRC.

Allan was also lead author of the published Merino Bloodline Performance (1982) and Merino Superior Sires (1994).

Allan's skill is to take genetic research and implement it on-farm in a practical way.
